FOUND IN THIS WRIGHT FAMILY

PREFACE

While collecting data about Benjamin Wright, Sr. and his descendants, I found considerable material about his brother, Richard Wright, Jr. and family. This was especially true of early Putnam County, Indiana records and some counties in Iowa.

Also in writing for information about the early Wrights in North Carolina, the only ones I could find who still lived there, were descendants of Richard Wright, Jr. Much of this material was obtained in the late 1930's and the early 1940's and was intended for Mrs. Lillie Wright White's book, but was not used due to the high cost of publishing in wartime.

Therefore I am using the descendants of Richard Wright, Jr. in this manuscript as VOLUME II of my WRIGHT FAMILY HISTORY. See VOLUME I for Descendants of Benjamin Wright, Sr. I am giving copies of this to Newberry Library in Chicago, Illinois and to the Iowa State Historical Library at Des Moines, Iowa.

I realize many lines are missing and would appreciate more information on Richard Wright's descendants.

WRIGHT FAMILY HISTORY

RICHARD WRIGHT, JR.

1. Richard Wright, Sr.

According to D.A.R. records, Richard Wright,Sr. was born in 1730 and died in 1785. We know his will was probated Feb. 8, 1785. So far as we know, the date of his birth has never been definitely established. We think the genealogist who helped the first members join the D.A.R. thru Richard Wright, Sr., must have estimated the date of birth. Mr. Grant Wright's manuscript says, "He is supposed to have been buried in a cemetery on the waters of the Uharie in Davidson county, North Carolina near the Randolph county line. There has not been a burial in that cemetery for more than 100 years. The graves are marked with crude stones bearing no inscriptions." (Addie Wright Hepler, a descendant living near there, says this cemetery is about two miles from Silver Valley Cross Roads, which is on U.S. Highway No. 64, about ten miles east of Lexington, North Carolina.) The above manuscript states, "According to tradition, Richard Wright was of Scotch and Irish descent." The history mentioned below says he was English, and PIONEER PREACHERS OF INDIANA by MADISON EVANS, published by J. Challen & Sons of Philadelphia in 1862, says the Wrights came from England. HISTORY OF GREENE COUNTY IOWA, published in 1887, says Richard Wright's (Sr.) grandson was of Scotch- Irish descent.

D.A.R. records say Richard Wright, Sr. married in Rowan Co., North Carolina in 1748. They give no authority for that date. (Judge R. Lee Wright of Salisbury, North Carolina, says in his manuscript, "The first deed found so far in Rowan Co., North Carolina to Richard Wright, was dated 1762, in Book 5, page 366.") D.A.R. records also say the wife was Jane. As far as we can learn, this name was taken by an early genealogist from the 1790 census of North Carolina where a Jane Wright, widow, was listed. Grant Wright's early manuscript called her Elizabeth Jane, for the same reason, finding Elizabeth Wright, widow, with a grown son, listed in the census of 1790, and knowing that D.A.R. records said Jane. The HISTORY OF BARTHOLOMEW AND JACKSON COUNTIES, INDIANA, published in 1904 by B.F. Bowen, on page 745, calls her Nancy. In 1939 Mrs. Kyle Wright Hill of Glenwood, Iowa, a descendant of Richard Wright Jr.'s, learned thru a genealogist (either Mrs. Welborn of High Point, N.C. or a Mrs. McCubbin of Salisbury, N.C.) that when Richard's will was probated, his widow was named as Ann. Perhaps the real name was Nancy, but since ANN is the only name for Richard's wife found so far on an official document, we shall use that name in this manuscript. The history mentioned above (Jackson Co., Indiana) says she was Scotch.

Ann Wright's death date is given as 1795 by D.A.R. early record. We do not know how this date was obtained. It could have been the date Widow Jane Wright died, instead of Ann, wife of our Richard. We do not know Ann's maiden name. U.S. Wright thought the Morgan who witnessed Richard Sr.'s will, must have been related to the family and told Grant Wright he believed Ann was a Morgan. Prof. W.Wayne Smith called her Ann Morgan in Mrs. White's book on Richard Wright's descendants, page 126, but this was only based on the above supposition. Since finding that three of Richard Sr.'s sons married Morgan girls, we believe that was the connection with the Morgan family and feel that it is unlikely that she (Ann) was a Morgan.

Kyle Wright Hill says a record of Richard Wright and wife Ann, selling a farm on Haw River in Orange Co.,North Carolina to Harmon Husband, was sent to her but it gave no date. I believe the correct name was Herman Husbands, a well known leader of the Regulators in Orange Co., North Carolina, who had to leave that state after the Battle of 1771. Guilford Co., N.C. has record of Herman Husbands selling land there in 1766. At that time Guilford was part of Orange Co. WHEELER'S HISTORICAL SKETCHES OF NORTH CAROLINA, Vol. II, says, "Herman Husbands' two sons settled on a large tract of land on Deep River, near Buffalo Ford. His daughter married a Wright." (Page 349). LIFE OF HERMAN HUSBANDS by Mary Elinor Lazenby, says he married Mary Pugh as his second wife in 1762 and probably had from her, William and maybe a daughter who married a Wright on Deep River.

It is possible that this Husband girl married a son of our Richard Wright, Sr., since the wives of Peter, John and Evans are unknown tp us, but more likely that she married a son of John Wright III, born in Virginia in 1728 and died in Surry Co., North Carolina in 1789. See page 8 of manuscript entitled, "Wright Family History- Genealogy of Benjamin Wright,Sr." by Osee Johnson Knouf. Judge Lee Wright's manuscript says of this John Wright III, "He has the discretion to settle near good neighbors, the Elsberry's and Husbands, who had previously entered the district."

Grant Wright's manuscript says, "It seems that Richard Wright,Sr. was a large land owner and accumulated well for one in his day.——— He was a Revolutionary soldier, a private in the North Carolina militia from Rowan County. It is said that his five oldest sons also fought in the Revolution."

We know that Richard Wright,Sr., and his sons, Benjamin, Richard Jr., and William have been used many times for D.A.R. membership. We have no data on John and very little about Peter.

Some of the National D.A.R. numbers for these Wrights, are 152225 for Richard Jr; 220925 used Richard Sr. and Benjamin in supplementary papers (Add. Vol. 331); and No. 291647 proved Benjamin Wright Sr.'s line.

(The Clerk who sent Will says the "Waters of Nary" could be "Uary" and if so it probably meant the River Uharie.)

This will was probabodd Feb. 8, 1785 by Evins Wright and James Morgan Junr. His widow Ann, and William Wright qualified giving bond of 200 pounds with James Morgan as security.

Children of Richard Wright, Sr. and wife, Ann.

Grant Wright says he had the names and dates of birth of Richard Wright, Sr.'s children, from Elder Ezekiel Wright of Putnam Co., Indiana, who sent them to his father many years ago. Miss Mary Lee Woodrum of Putnam Co., Indiana, says her father also had the same names and dates. They are as follows:

2-1 Benjamin Wright, born 1752. Married 1st, Barbara Morgan; 2nd, Patsey ————.(Wives' names from U.S. Wright.) For his descendants, see manuscript entitled, "Wright Family History-Vol.I-Genealogy of Benjamin Wright,Sr." by Osee Johnson Knouf.

2-2 Peter Wright, born 1754. According to Wee Lee Wright's Bible, Peter Wright died Oct. 1821.

2-3 Richard Wright, Jr. born 1757. Married 1st, Nancy Morgan (some records say Mary Morgan); 2nd, Cary (or Cara or Caroline) Kittrell.

2-4 John Wright, born 1759. Revolutionary soldier. No definited information about him or family. Before Dorothy Terhune's death she believed this family went to Missouri.

2-5 William Wright, born 1761, on March 25th? Married Martha (called Patsey) Morgan. See manuscript entitled, "Two Wright Brothers- William and Amos" by Mary D. Stoops, for descendants of William, and Amos (2-7) below.

2-6 Evans Wright, born 1762. Married Rebecca ————.

2-7 Amos Wright, born 1764. Married 1st, Elizabeth Low; 2nd,Margaret David. Descendants given with manuscript on William Wright.

2-8 Philburt Wright, born March 29, 1768. Married 1st, Mary (Molly) Sears; 2nd, Elizabeth (Devin) Beck.

2-9 to 12 Daughters.
Grant Wright remembers that Josiah Johnson said that old Richard Wright, Sr. had a family of eight sons and four daughters. Jackson Co., Indiana history says of the above William Wright, that he was one of twelve sons. We believe it should have said one of twelve children.

We do not have names of any daughters but North Carolina descendants of his say that McCager (Micajah) Wright had an Aunt Betsy Pearce of Randolph Co., North Carolina, and another Aunt who married Allen Rodgers and lived near Yadkin River where High Rock dam is now. They had a great granddaughter, Genie Rodgers still living at High Rock, N.C. in 1942.

We have been unable to contact their descendants or verify elsewhere.

RICHARD WRIGHT, JR.

2-3 Richard Wright Jr., son of Richard Wright Sr. and wife, Ann, was born in Rowan Co., North Carolina, in 1757, and died in Davidson Co., North Carolina in 1833. He is buried in an old cemetery, where we believe his father also lies, about two miles from Silver Valley cross Roads, (on U.S. highway 64), and about ten miles east of Lexington, North Carolina. Grant Wright believes this cemetery was at one time on the old Wright plantation. This is somewhat verified by the fact that Micajah's descendants still live near this cemetery and on part of the old plantation. Some of the land is now owned by a family named Jolly, and some by Marcus Wright, a great grandson of Richard's.

Richard Wright Jr. was a private in Rowan Co., North Carolina and fought in the Battle of Guilford County Court House, in the War for Independence. General Nathaniel Green was the Commander of the American forces. His war record was proven by D. A. R. National No. 152225, and many others. The certificates filed with this number under date of May 27, 1919, is for Richard Jr. (The other under date of Nov. 14, 1919, is for his father, Richard Sr.).

Richard Wright Jr. was a Baptist minister and a rather unusual man for his time. We find many, many ministers in his descendants. He did not sign his own will, but made his mark, but he did sign many years before as a witness to his fathers will, so must have been able to read and write.

Richard Wright, Jr. first married in 1780, Mary or Nancy Morgan, born 1760, died 1798. Grant Wright and the Woodrums of Putnam Co., Indiana gave her name as Mary. It was probably used that way for D. A. R. However Kyle Wright Hill, who also proved that line, says a grandson of Richard Wright, Jr. told her it was Nancy Morgan. We believe she was a sister of Martha (Morgan) Wright, whose parents were James and Mary Morgan. If so, there is some indication that they had a daughter Mary who married Arthur Parr, so will use Nancy as the name of Richard Jr.'s wife in this book.

WILL OF RICHARD WRIGHT, JR.

In the name of God Amen - I, Richard Wright of the County of Davisson and state of North Carolina, being of sound mind though week, do ordain and make this my last will and testament, that is to say I will and bequeath to my beloved wife Cary after my just debts are paid all of my property to be hers during her life or widowhood, and if she marries then to be equally divided between her and lawfull begotten children by her namely, Nelson, Silas, Burgess, Mary, Micajah, and Miles. I will and bequeath to my son Claten one dollar, and to my daughter Ruth and Cely one dollar each. I also will and bequeath to my lawfully begotten children by my first beloved wife, namely Sarah, Amos, Jane, Susannah, Delila, Rueben, Isaiah, Elijah, Nancy, Isom, and Gilly, one dollar each. I do will and bequeath to Nelson and Silas, the two young colts that the mares now has sucking. I do constitute and appoint my worthy friend Spencer Clark executor to this my last will and testament in witness whereof I hereunto set my hand and seal in the presence of us May 12th A. D. 1833.

The foregoing is a true copy of the will of Richard Wright. This the 24th day of April, 1929. (Signed) John E. Raper, Deputy Clerk Superior Court, Davidson Co. North Carolina

Children of Richard Wright Jr. and his first wife, Nancy Morgan:

3-1 Sarah Wright, born about 1781.
3-2 Amos Wright, born Oct. 3,1782, died Oct. 9,1870
3-3 Jane Wright
3-4 Susannah Wright
3-5 Delila Wright
3-6 Reuben Wright, born 1790, died 1845.
3-7 Isaiah Wright
3-8 Elijah Wright, born June 14,1793, died Aug. 27,1860.
3-9 Nancy Wright
3-10 Isom Wright, born June 10,1797, died Sept. 9,1870
3-11 Gilly Wright, born 1798. Her stone says died Aug. 31,1841, in 44th year. It gives her name as Gizzeal.
3-12 Hugh ~~(or Gizzeal)~~ Wright (Grant Wright gives this name. Must have died young, as he was not named in his father's will).

2-3 Richard Wright was again married after his first wife's death to Cary Kittrell. (Will gives Cary, history says Cara; they may have been nicknames for Caroline). She survived him.

Children of Richard Wright Jr. and second Wife, Cary Kittrell:

3-13 Nelson Wright
3-14 Silas Wright
3-15 Ruth Wright, born March 1810, died in 1911.
31-6 Burgess Wright
3-17 Cely Wright
3-18 Clayton Wright -- (Claten, in will)
3-19 Mary Wright
3-20 Micajah Wright, born 1820, died 1910 - (called McCager)
3-21 Miles Wright (Miles, in will)
3-22 Ailsy Wright (Grant Wright gives this name. May have died young, was not named in will).

Other two names unknown. Grant Wright said there were six sons and six daughters from each wife. If so, the missing names must have been girls.

We believe all of the children of the first wife came west except Nancy. Many settled in Washington and Putnam Co., Indiana, and two at least, moved to Iowa in their latter days.

Mrs. Addie Wright Hepler says several of the second wife's sons also moved west, the only ones who stayed near the old plantation being her grandfather McCager (Micajah) and Silas Wright, and possibly Nelson, as she doesn't remember what became of him.

We are not sure of the order of birth of the above children, having only two dates for the second children.

Mrs. Helper thinks Nelson was the oldest. She also said Richard, Jr. Was the father of twelve children from each of his two wives.

THE JOHNSON FAMILY by Mary D. Stoops

Compiled by Mary D. Stoops with Mr. Alfred Johnson as chief helper. He had an old manuscript by Josiah T. Johnson giving family history. We also had dates in BIBLE RECORDS OF THE NELSON JOHNSON FAMILY published in Indiana Mag. of History Sept. 1939, page 357. These were copied by Mrs. Bert Bell of Pekin. The dates of birth for Nelson, his wife, their first three children and grandson, Alfred, are in the Bible itself, as I suppose are the dates of marriages. Other dates of birth are on a sheet of paper pinned in the Bible, says Mrs. Bell. They give a record of the families of the three brothers, Ransom (and Barbara), Wiley, and Jordan (and Lavina). These dates are marked in the following record with an *

Others who helped with compilation are Mr. J.M. DeMasters of Joplin, Mo., Mr. C.C.Johnson of Campbellsburg,Ind., and Mrs. T.F. Fisher of Pekin,Ind.

After reading the account, you may feel as I do, that the Johnsons have more Wright blood than the Wrights themselves.

3-1 Sarah Wright, called Sallie, daughter of Richard Jr. and Nancy (Morgan) Wright, was born ca 1781 in North Carolina.

She married Josiah Johnson, of Scotch-Irish descent, who had been a Revolutionary soldier, and was the son of Jordan Johnson who came from England to Va. President Andrew Johnson was a nephew of Josiah's. Josiah and Sallie came to Indiana in 1807.

Grant Wright's manuscript says that Josiah died in 1813 and was buried in a small cemetery on the Dawson Purkhiser farm south of Fort Hill. Also, that he entered a homestead claim 2 miles southwest of Salem, later known as the David Colglazier farm.

Children-

4-1 Rev. Richard married in Clark co.,Ind; moved to Ill.
4-2 Josiah Jr. moved to Iowa 1846

4-9 Ransom married Barbara Wright, daughter of Philburt

4-8 Jordan Johnson III, son of Sarah (Wright) and Josiah Johnson, was born Feb.10,1805 *.

He married Lavina Wright, daughter of John and Nancy (Purlee) Wright. This John was a son of Amos Sr., so descendants of this couple have as ancestors the two Wright brothers, Amos and Richard Jr. Indiana Hist. Bulletin for Aug.1924 says Lavina was born May 21,1813 in Old Fort House, where the settlers were living for protection against the Indians. Grant Wright's manuscript gives the date of her death as Sept. 22,1884.

She was living near Columbus, Ind. We do not know her married name and have been unable to find her. Some of the descendants MAY have moved to Oklahoma. For children, see Cooleys. 5-7 Ransom Johnson, Jr., son of Ransom and Barbara (Wright) Johnson, was born Aug. 31,1832.* Relatives say that his Uncle Wiley Johnson took Ransom to Mo. There was some question in the mind of Mr. Alfred Johnson at first, as to whether or not Ransom and Barbara had a son Ransom, Jr., but finally enough evidence came in to make him feel sure of it.

In his manuscript, Grant Wright, who is related to Barbara, says that Ransom Jr. went away when six years of age. Mr. John M. DeMasters wrote that he remembered hearing his grandmother speak of a Rance who was a brother to her husband. A paper by Joseph T. Johnson says that Uncle Wiley Johnson took Ransom to Mo. As Ransom, Jr's mother died when he was about a year old, and his uncle Wiley had no children, it is quite possible that Uncle Wiley took the child then.

Mr Alfred Johnson says his parents, many years ago, visited this Ransom Johnson, who was then living among the Indians in Oklahoma

#3-2 Amos Wright, son of Richard, Jr. and Nancy (Morgan) Wright, born Oct. 3,1782, in what is now Davidson Co., N.C., died Oct. 9,1870, in Putnam Co., Indiana. Married in 1805 to Elizabeth Parrish, born 1789, died Sept. 1879. They moved to Indiana in 1826 and settled on 160 acres on Long Branch, Madison Twp., Putnam Co., Indiana. History says,"Reuben, brother of Amos, and Edward Parrish, brother of Elizabeth, were in the party." Elizabeth's father was a soldier in the Revolution and came to Indiana with his family and lived to be over ninety years. He is buried in Long Branch cemetery.

"Amos Wright built a house on his land about 1833, and lived most of his life there. He sold his farm when quite old but continued to live the rest of his life in Madison Twp. In 1910, this house was owned by John Quinlisk.

"Cousin Elder Levi Wright of Clinton Twp., Putnam Co., held services at the home of Amos Wright and finally organized a church, Amos and wife being life long members. The first church building was at Long Branch Cemetery, the present Christian Chapel being built in 1867. Amos and Elizabeth belonged to the Baptist church in North Carolina, the father of Amos having been a preacher there and Amos, an elder."

Dr. Allen emigrated with his parents to Putnam Co., Ind. in 1829, locating in Greencastle, which was a log village and the country a wilderness. His father died when he was about ten years old and his mother and two sisters were left to his support. At the age of 15 years, he was appronticed to a carpenter for three years, after which he entered Asbury University, remaining in that institution for sometime then commenced to study medicine, continuing several years, part of the time being employed in a drug store at Greencastle, leaving there during the years 1861-1862 to attend Rush Medical College. After completing his medical course, he began to practice at Fillmore, Ind. later moving to Reelsville, Ind. until 1881, when he moved to Bowling Green. He married a Miss Knetzer in 1850 and had six children. She died in 1881 and he married Jennie A. Stites. They had one child (when book was published.)"

Geo. Fox of Reelsville, Ind. says he remembers Dr. Allen and that he had Charles, Mike, Rilda and Katy, that he recalls. One daughter married a man named Pruner.

The Migration of a Wright Family

by

Kyle Wright Hill - (1942)

Family tradition says the Wrights are of Scotch-Irish descent. The first record we have of the family they were living in Rowan Co., North Carolina. Richard Wright Sr.'s will names seven sons. It is through his son Richard, Jr. that this line descends. His military record states that he took part at the Battle of Guilford, with General Nathaniel Green in command of the American forces.

The Wrights and Morgans were near neighbors. If there were many sons in the Wright home, the Morgans were blessed with daughters. Richard, Jr. found Nancy most attractive and in 1780 she became his bride. They established a home on a plantation in the valley of the Wharrie and there their son Reuben was born in 1790. Some time in the year 1810, so the story goes, Reuben went on a visit to relatives in South Carolina. There was much visiting back and forth among the neighboring plantations. Among the many charming girls whose acquaintance he made was one Ruth Shirley, daughter of Thaddeus and Elizabeth Shirley. When he returned to his home in North Carolina she went with him as his bride.

Their home which was on a part of the home plantation was most attractively situated, having many fine trees and what was most important, a big spring close by. Here four of their children were born --- Cynthia, Lemuel, Isom, and Frances.

Along in the 1820's there were many reports of the wonderful opportunities to be had in the new Country to the west. It was the main subject of conversation wherever there was a gathering of friends and relatives. There were arguments for and against, but finally a number of families made up of the younger people of the neighborhood decided they were going. Among them the family of Reuben Wright.

When Ruth Shirley left home as the bride her father gave her two house servants to whom she was much attached. When it was finally decided that they were leaving for the west the one thing she felt she could do for them was to give them their freedom and the opportunity to return to their home in South Carolina. This she did. Sure it would be wonderful to be free and go home but going away and leaving Miss Ruthie---- that would be hard.

It took much preparation and planning before the family was ready to leave, for it was a long, long way they were going. Finally the day came for the sale of those things it was just impossible to take with them, but many little thing were salvaged at the last minute; things that they just could not part with.

The sale over, wagons packed and the time came to leave for Salisbury, the meeting place of the migrating families. Here they said the last farewell to friends and relatives and the life they had known. Whips cracked, wagons creaked and they were off following the Wilderness Road to the west.

Members of the party stopped in Tennessee, Kentucky and southern Indiana. Reuben Wright made his final stop in Putnam Co., Indiana.

The family has a land grant signed by President John Quincy Adams for one farm which he owned -- the farm on which his two youngest boys, Appler and John, were born.

When Reuben Wright died in 1845 he left in the home his wife and two sons, Appler 16 and John 9. Cynthia, Isom and Frances were married and settled in homes of their own. Lemuel had died in 1842.

Some time in 1846 his wife, taking the two boys, went for a visit back to the old home. This had been looked forward to by the boys for weeks. Many were the stories they had been told by the brothers and sisters who had been born there and who had taken part in the trip west. What a trip that was ferrying over the rivers, climbing mountains, camping out; such a lovely adventure. And then they were there. What a greeting and such a lot of talk, talk. Many questions to be asked and answered for news traveled slowly then and letters were few and far between.

A short visit, for they planned to stop on the way back, and they drove on to their mother's girlhood home in South Carolina. There the home folks had planned a surprise for her old servants so had not told them of their coming. When they were sent for and told they were wanted up at "the house" they went with no thought of why they had been sent for. When they went in their first words were, "Oh! Miss Ruthie." What a happy reunion that was; with Miss Ruthie's boys, and where were the other children; Cynthia, Isom, Lemuel and Frances, children they had taken care of? So many darkies were right disconcerting to Miss Ruthie's boys, for in Indiana where they came from there were no darkies. Here they were every where, doing things for you, waiting on you. Soon they were feeling at home and having a wonderful time with the many cousins.

At one of the plantations near by, for work well done, the darkies, were, as a reward, allowed to have a barbecue and invite some of their friends. The Shirley darkies were among those invited. Miss Ruthie knew it would be something for her boys always to remember, so they were allowed to go in the care of a trusted servant. The story of this barbecue, the music, singing and dancing, was one that Appler and John told their children many years after.

Back for another visit in North Carolina then home to Ind. Many were the messages their mother brought from relatives and friends to those living in Indiana. And did the boys have stories to tell!

Appler was a steady dependable boy and of much help to his mother after his father's death. In 1848 he writes his sister, Frances, living in Pulaski Co., Ind., giving news of the family whose health he said was good. They had rented all their land and expected to do the same next year. His present occupation was wagoning. John was still in school and the ablest in his class. For local news he tells her the railroad from Terre Haute to Indianapolis was progressing finely. They were also taking stock to complete a plank road from Indianapolis to the west side of Putnam Co. "It is the general opinion that the railroad will bust up. The reason why is that they are only working on it from Greencastle to Terre Haute and they have only got one fifth of the stock that it will take to complete it. I for my part would rather have the plank road any how. The railroad runs close to the north end of both tracts of our land and the plank road right at the south end of said track. I expect to go to the Ioway County this fall and if I like it will enter me a piece of land."

It was on one of the wagoning trips spoken of in this letter when the boys were hauling grain to Ft. Wayne, Ind., that a copy of Jane Porter's "Scottish Chiefs" came into John's possession. He never forgot the thrill that came from the reading of it as they camped beside the road evenings.

The plank road that was being built in 1848, later known as the Turnpike is now part of the Federal Highway. One of the drivers of the stage to Indianapolis over to "Old Pike" was Isom Wright, Appler's brother.

Appler did not go the Ioway Country that fall but his sister Frances with her husband and children, went with a party to Missouri in 1852, stoping in Atkinson Co. The next year, 1853, they went by boat up the Missouri stopping at Bethleham, Mills Co., Iowa. Edward Gillilland, her husband, with others in the party, entered land a few miles north and east of Bethleham.

The Government in 1850 had completed negotiations with the Pottawattamie Indians for the purchase of their land. The Waubonsie Bluffs, in the south west part of the country, were so named in honor of their chief.

Mills Co. was organized in 1851 and opened to settlement. It was a new country, but a country righ in natural resources, fertile soil, plentiful water supply, abundance of game, wild fruit and nuts for the gathering. Streams full of fish, best of timber for the building of the cabins and to provide fuel for the fire place. The native grass on the bottoms was higher than a man's head on horseback. A few Mormon families, the first white settlers, had come in 1848.

It was not until 1854 that Appler with his wife and small daughter, Candaice, his mother, and brother, John, went to the Ioway Country. They came by way of Burlington, Iowa and followed the Mormon trail west. They settled in what was known as "The Bottom" in the southwest part of the Co.

When the Wrights went west in 1854, John left behind him his sweetheart, Mary Ann Lewis. In 1856 he was back in Putnam Co., Ind. and they were married, leaving immediately for Iowa.

The country was full of roving bands of Indians hunting and fishing. When the news of the Spirit Lake Massacre came, it made every one a little jittery. One morning John's wife, Ann, was alone in the cabin busy with her work. She looked toward the cradle where her baby was sleeping and a big Indian, tomahawk in hand, was leaning over it. She was terribly frightened. The only thing she could think of to do was to call her husband although she knew he was no where near. She called frantically, "John! John!" The Indian became frightened and left.

The first few years grain was shelled with hand shellers, sacked into bushel sacks, each sack stamped with owner's name, hauled to a boat landing and shipped down the river to St. Louis. It is said at times the Wright brothers had 50 teams hauling. The hand sheller was followed by horse power. Improvements in machinery followed rapidly. Homes were improved, orchards set out.

"Then came the rumblings of the War between the States. In the south Wright's fought with J.E.B.Stuart. Micajah Wright, son of Richard, Jr., was with Gen. Pickett and took part in the Battle of Gettysburg. Tillman Wright, son of Isom Wright of Putnam Co., Indiana was with the Army of the Tennessee. In Mills Co., Iowa, Appler and his nephew, Reuben Gillilland, son of his sister Frances, went first, Appler as Captain of his Company. He was taken sick in Camp and sent home. John went in 1863, a member of the 4th Iowa Battery. There were two small daughters in his home, Mary and Ida. Mary died while her father was away. Ann, his wife, took Ida and went to Indiana to stay until her husband was mustered out at the end of the War."

"The men came home, took up their work where they had left off. Railroads carried their grain in place of boats. Everything was moving along. Then came the "Big Flood of '81." This flood was caused by an ice gorge in the Missouri near Sioux City, Iowa. When the gorge broke a ten foot wall of water was released which carried death and destruction in its mad rush. When it came to the bottom where the Wright farms were, a hundred miles south of Sioux City, it had lost some of its force but it was still a raging torrent full of rapid currents and angry swirls. It spread from bluff to bluff being in places five miles wide. The house on John's "Home Place" was high enough, that although the water came to the house, it did not enter it. The house was filled with women and children and the barn with men and boys from the surrounding farms. John had big cribs of corn around which he threw up levies and by keeping men on guard day and night saved his corn. One of the jokes was that people came in boats to John to get water. The wells there were not flooded."

"Visiting with his neice not long ago, about the "Big Flood" she recalled how frightened her mother was when their home was surrounded with water, and her mother wanted to leave. Meda said Uncle John came in a row boat through the gate and right up to the porch. He told her mother he thought the worst should be over and that it would be safe for them to remain. She also recalled how she and her brothers rigged up a raft to carry grain to their cattle that had taken refuge in sand knolls in the pasture. It was dangerous work because of the swift currents and swirls. She fell off once and came near not getting back on the raft. They enjoyed the thrills.

"The families are scattered to east, west, north, and south. Not a branch of the service in World War II did not fail to be represented by descendants of Richard Wright, Sr. doing their part to keep the Freedom and Independence for which their Ancestors fought to obtain."

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF THE LATE A. R. WRIGHT . . . . .
(From Glenwood,(Ia.,) OPINION.)

The subject of this sketch, Hon. A. R. Wright was born in Putnam county, Indiana, January 29, 1829, and died at his residence in Glenwood, Ia., October 28, 1890, being near 62 years of age. The early years of his life were spent on a farm, but in 1848 he engaged in the merchantile business which he followed about six years. He was one of the pioneers of Mills county, coming here in 1858,and locating on land in Lyons township, some ofwhich he still owned at the time of his demise. For twenty years he resided in Lyons township, and by his industry and thrift accumulated a competency and established one of the finest country homes in southwest Iowa. During the time he lived there Mr. W. and wife were connected with the Christian Church, and through the activity and generosity of the former a house of worship was erected, and regular service maintained for a number of years.

In 1877 he moved to Glenwood and engaged in the loan and brokerage business, to which he devoted more or less of his time during the remainder of his life. He owned a fine,well improved farm in Center township, and many of his later days were spent in that pleasent home. Having, however, disposed of his Center township farm, the past year, he again took up his abode in Glenwood, and had just completed and moved into one of the most cozy and comodious residences in the city.

On December 24, 1847, Mr. Wright and Miss Sarah A Webster were united in matrimony, and four of their six children with their mother survive the father and husband to mourn his loss.

The children are Cannie, now wife of Robert Hale, Esq., Frank, Charlie and Fannie.

During his long residence in Mills county Mr. Wright was frequently called upon to serve the people in an official capacity, ranging all the way from township trustee to member of the Iowa legislature, of which body he was twice honored and a useful member.

He was a man of strong, earnest conviction, intensely practical, and nothing could sever him from a line of duty which he conceived to be right;and he possessed the good sense and judgment that universally arrayed him on the right side of all questions that effected the well-being of the people as, for instance, he was not only a believer in, but he was a leader in the cause of prohibition, a leader whom the people could trust, and at the time of his death was president of the county temperance organization. He will be missed in the counsels of those who are laboring for the overthrow of an agency, that is dealing death to all who come within its influence.

He and wife are both buried in Wright cemetery, Jackson Twp., that county. His wife, Susannah Parrish Wright's stone says, died Feb.9,1878, aged 85 yrs. 6 mo. 8 days. Therefore, born Aug. 1,1792.

Elijah Wright was married in North Carolina, probably Rowan Co., in 1810, to Susannah Parrish (sometimes called Sukey). They came to Indiana about 1823. Their family consisted of five sons, and five daughters. They lived in Putnam Co., Indiana for many years before going to Iowa, probably when Ervin did or soon after. Putnam Co history and relatives there, thought Elijah died in Putnam Co., Indiana, knowing he had lived there many years, but had no definite proof. They also gave only seven children, the three older girls probably married and moved away, but were remembered by the Iowa cousins.

We have no definite record of this Gilly but she was named in her father's will in 1833. A Gilly Wright married Absalom Hill in Randolph Co., N.C. on April 25, 1816. We think this family moved to Knox Co., Indiana as we find an Absalom Hill in that census of 1830. Rev. B.F. Dailey had Rev. Jesse Hill as a son of this Gilly which was wrong but might indicate that he knew she married a Hill. Recent date from Knox Co., Indiana gives the following:

Tomb stone record from Ockiltree cemetery in Busseron Twp. - Gizzeal Hill, wife of Absalom Hill, died Aug. 31, 1841 - in her 44th year. Absalom Hill died Dec. 15, 1863 - aged 67 yrs. 14 da. A son, Reuben, died 1824 - aged 3 yrs. 6 mo.

3-18 Clayton Wright went west with his brother Miles, by covered wagon train. Where they settled is unknown.

3-19 Mary Wright, no definite record. A Polly Wright married John Cox in Randolph Co., N.C. in 1818, but this could not have been Richard, Jr's Mary unless she was one of the oldest children of the second marriage and we have no proof of that.
(Marcus Wright says either one of Richard Sr.'s or Richard Wright Jr.'s daughters married a Snider in North Carolina. This could have been Mary Wright. However his sister says it was Cely Wright, above, who married a Snider.)

3-21 Miles Wright (spelled Milas, in will) went west from North Carolina with his brother, Clayton, by covered wagon train. (In the Chowan CO.,N.C. marriage bonds, a Miles Wright and Rebecca Elliott were married Oct. 14,1824, Miles Elliott,bondsman. Was he this Miles Wright, son of Richard Wright, Jr.?) If our Miles Wright was one of the younger children of Richard Jr. as we think, he would not have been old enough to marry in 1824. However we are not as all sure of the order of birth of the second children of Richard Jr.
Census of 1850 gives a Miles W. Wright 24, with Micajah Wright, probably his brother.

2-4 John Wright, son of Richard Sr. and Ann Wright, was born in 1759, and served in the Revolution, Grant Wright says. Grant thinks the John Wright listed in the 1790 census of Randolph County, North Carolina, next to our Benjamin Wright, was this John. If so, the record gives: (In Hillsborough District of Randolph Co.,N.C.)

John Wright, 2 males 16 and up including head of family,
5 males under 16, and 2 females including head of family.

John Wright must have lived near his father in North Carolina when his will was made in 1784 as he was given a cow and calf or the value thereof in gold and silver.

We know John's brother Evan Wright moved to Kentucky and we find in the census of 1810 for Cumberland Co., Kentucky, a John Wright listed next to Evan Wright. At that time he (John) and wife were both over 45, with three females listed.

From Kentucky history by Burns, it gives in Pensioners of Kentucky, Cumberland Co., one John Wright, aged 84 in 1854, had lived in Guilford Co., N. C. part of the time during the Revolution.

In another history, it gives a John Wright, in Hart Co., Kentucky, private in N.C. line, commenced pension in 1831, aged 73.

Letters to Kentucky and the pension bureau brought nothing to show either was our John or what became of these men.

Evan Wright moved from Kentucky to Howard Co., Missouri about 1828. The late Dorothy Terhune thought that John Wright also went to Missouri but at the time of her death had not found proof as far as I know.

It seems likely that some of the Wright men in Indiana and Illinois in early times, with names like those of Richard Wright Sr.'s family but whose ancestry is unknown, could be the sons of this John or his brother Peter whose children, if any, we know nothing about. With Rev. Richard Wright, son of Benjamin Wright, Sr., Peter and William Wright were early settlers of Greene Co., Indiana. A Philberd Wright, not accounted for in our records, lived in Monroe Co., Indiana in 1820 (according to census) and was in Greene Co., Ind. in 1830.

Correspondence with descendants of this John Wright would be welcomed.
